

ENCOURAGING WOMEN ACROSS ALL BORDERS

JUNIOR BOARD FAQ

2023

What is a Junior Board?

A junior board is a working group of young professionals who are focused and dedicated to a nonprofit's mission. They are responsible for reaching out to folks in the same age group and offering opportunities for involvement. The junior board often supplements the board of trustees by creating and managing events, volunteering and fundraising.

How is a Junior Board different from a Board of Trustees?

The key difference between a Junior Board and the Board of Trustees is that the Junior Board does not have governance responsibility or voting power. They simply serve in an advisory capacity to supplement the Board of Trustees.

Who can join EWAAB's Junior Board?

EWAAB welcomes all young professionals (even those who are still studying) who are passionate about our mission and can dedicate time to turning our vision into a reality. We highly encourage folks who are already connected with the organization but will consider those who are new to our community as well.

What are the expectations of a Junior Board Member?

EWAAB expects all Junior Board Members to demonstrate their passion and commitment to our mission throughout their time as a JBM. Below are some of the expectations though they may vary depending on the organization's need:

- Regular attendance at Junior Board meetings (held 4 times per year) as well as attendance at at least one Board of Trustees meeting per year.
- Participation in at least on committee focused on events, fundraising, marketing, volunteer recruitment and/or organization strategic planning.
- Volunteer in at least one additional capacity through EWAAB programs (ie. as a mentor, speaker or event volunteer).
